The entire lot of Refrigerators was made up for a New York dealer by one of the largest and most prominent manufacturers of high-class refrigerators in the United States, and when they were ready for delivery the dealer was unable to make a satisfactory settlement. Our representative was on the ground when this happened, and made a low offer, which was immediately accepted. RESULT—Greatest refrigerator values ever known.

All are made from the best stock obtainable. The workmanship is equal to the finest furniture. Finish is the best that can be produced. They have a perfect circulation of cold dry air passing through the provision chambers as long as the ice chamber is well supplied with ice. They are economical in the consumption of ice.

Each and every one is sold under an ironclad guarantee to give perfect satisfaction. Buy one and use it for thirty days, if you are not satisfied with it at the expiration of that time we will call for it and refund the purchase price.

Outside cases are of genuine ash. Waste pipes are removable. Shelves are woven wire, heavily tinned, and re removable. Inner cases are made of odorless, tasteless lumber, tongued and grooved and clamped together.

Locks and hinges are of solid brass heavily nickel plated. They are high grade, first quality Refrigerators of the latest and most modern type, thoroughly built in every detail, in accordance with the most scientific ideas of construction - offered at less than you can ordinarily buy the commonest kinds for.

CHARGE MEETING PACKED

Claim Made That "Interests" Secured Unfair Control.

DEBATE STORMY AT TIMES

But Large Majority Carries Resolution Protesting Against Enactment Into Law.

The Chamber of Commerce voted overhelmingly to oppose the passage of the enate bill, known as the Jones-Works ill, regulating the sale of liquor in the District of Columbia, at a meeting last light. A charge was freely made that the meeting had been packed by the louor interests of the city to fight the bill. That the opponents of the bill were

Three other courses regarding the liquor ill were submitted to the chamber, but ill were voted down. One was to favor the passage of the bill. The only supwho made the motion, Charles I. Evans, est who voted voted "No."

Another course suggested was to let the natter rest in the hands of the commitee on law and legislation, with the understanding the committee would make a report to the chamber within the next en days. This, too, was defeated by a large majority.

George Y. Worthington moved that the entire matter be laid aside and not acted upon, in the interests of harmony in the chamber. But he received little support n this suggestion. The majority of members decided that the regulation of the liquor traffic in the District was a matter of so much importance that the Chamber of Commerce could not and should not attempt to dodge the issue.

Debate Lasts Two Hours.

For two hours the liquor bill was debated before the chamber. Chapin Brown, as chairman of the municipal legislation committee, brought up the matter. He said that a subcommittee headed by roperty holders and liquor dealers. He o his attention that the committee on

He said that there were features of the bill which he believed unfair and which should be changed. But there were others which were good. He advised the chamber to stand for some measure, lest in the end prohibition be hrust upon the District.

Among those who favored immediate action on the bill were John H. Magruder, who declared that Mr. Sinclair's committee ought to have been ready to report last night; Harry King, P. J. Ryan of the Central Labor Union, Milton Snelling, president of the Central Labor Union They asserted that the provisions of the bill were known to all the members of the chamber, that wide publicity had been given to the hearings before the senate committee, and that nothing was to gained by delay. John G. Capers, former United State commissioner of internal revenue, made Jones-Works bill unfair both to property owners and liquor dealers of the city. He said that it had been his observation that the high-class liquor dealer was as ready as any other citizen to put out of busi-Four Syracuse White China Meat Dishes, two 9-inch, one 10-inch and bringing discredit on the business.

The resolution offered by Mr. Schulteis and finally adopted was as follows: "Whereas Senate bill No. 5461, entitled 'An act to regulate the traffic in intoxicating liquors in the District of Columbia, having come before us for consideration,
